

Censure Action Taken Against UM Professors

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Senate has asked for disciplinary action against a group of University of Michigan professors who, critical of American policies in Viet Nam, plan to cancel classes March 24.

At the same time, at least two senators expressed doubt Tuesday whether it is the senate's business to interfere in university affairs.

Individual members of the U of M Board of Regents registered disapproval prior to a meeting of the board Friday.

The head of the informal faculty group—grown from an initial 24 to 32 members—said the protesting professors respect the sentiments of their critics—especially Gov. Romney and the legislature.

Aimed At U. S. Policies

But sociology Prof. William Gamson said Tuesday night "in the end we have to answer to our consciences and act to meet our responsibilities to students of the university and country."

Noting the possible impact on university appropriations, Gamson said "we weigh such considerations against the possible loss of thousands of lives in Viet Nam or in a nuclear war."

Gamson said earlier the group plans to hold a one-day conference discussing the Vietnamese conflict instead of holding classes. He said the classes would be made up by professors on an individual basis.

He had emphasized the so-called "work moratorium" was not directed against the U of M but only against U.S. policies in the Southeast Asian country.

"The group has called these policies 'dangerous and immoral' and said it was 'in the best interest of Viet Nam, the United States and the rest of the world to end the war.'"

Bad Example

State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, disapproved of the censure resolution passed by his colleagues Tuesday. He called the protest an internal university matter, for handling by the regents and the administration.

The resolution, introduced Tuesday by Sen. Terry Trout, D-Remus, passed on a voice vote. It asked U of M President Harlan Hatcher to "pursue the matter with disciplinary action whatever the outcome."

Sen. Basil Brown D-Highland Park, said the declaration was too strong. But Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, said he had hoped for a stronger version that would have asked Hatcher to fire the professors.

Gov. George Romney told a news conference he thought "it's about the worst type of example professors could give to students. Professors and adults have to set a good example of measuring up to their responsibility."

Romney said he would not ask for specific disciplinary action until university administrators had a chance to work out the problem.

Virgil Grissom Set For Space Tour Tuesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom is about to become the first Buck Rogers of the space age.

If no hitches develop in his Gemini launch, scheduled for next Tuesday, the short, graying Grissom, an Air Force major, will be the first space traveler. American or Russian, to control the flight of his space ship.

Grissom will drive the two-seater spacecraft across the heavens, actually changing its orbital path. Other U.S. astronauts have been able to control the attitudes of their vehicles, but not the orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today outlined details of the mission, the first manned flight of the Gemini program.

Grissom's copilot on the three-orbit trip will be a likeable, dark-complexioned Navy lieutenant commander, John W. Young, 34.

The 4-hour, 52-minute flight is to grind out the bugs in the two-seater spacecraft in preparation for the long duration and rendezvous missions planned for Gemini in months to come.

Grissom, who will be 39 April 3, will have the distinction of being the first person to have two space trips under his belt.

None of the other 14 persons shot into the heavens have made an encore flight. Grissom was the second American in space, flying a suborbital shot on July 21, 1961.

None of the 15 had much to say where he was going, or where he would land.

The nine Russians and six Americans in a sense were "just along for the ride." Ground crews controlled the flights from liftoff to landing.

Grissom will make tricky maneuvers in space that will change his orbital path four times and will control the 7,000-pound spacecraft for all but 20 minutes of the flight. He will be able to pick his own landing spot and then with the help of a small, on-board computer, guide the capsule to a landing about 70 miles northeast of Grand Turk Island.

Bill Deals Blow To Gerrymander

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has dealt what it hopes is a lethal blow at the gerrymander — that odd-shaped congressional district drawn to favor one party over another.

It did it by passing a bill setting federal standards for congressional districts, which would require districts to be "as compact as practical."

Although the definition is far from precise, the bill's backers made it clear they mean the courts to outlaw the weirdly shaped districts that take their name from an early Massachusetts governor, Elbridge Gerry.

Another provision of the bill would permit the population of a congressional district to be within 15 per cent of the average district in that state.

The bill, which passed by a voice vote, now goes to the Senate. Since it doesn't apply to the Senate, the House hopes the Senate will pass it speedily, without change. The provisions would go into effect in time for the 1966 congressional elections.

Many states have been under pressure to redistrict since the Supreme Court held last year that one person's vote in a congressional election should be worth as much as another's.

Although the 15 per cent population variation actually permits a difference of 30 per cent between the largest and smallest districts, the House hopes the court will heed its proposed standards as an expression of congressional policy.

The courts have been calling for such an expression to guide state legislatures in redistricting.

Marquette Rail Bomb Plotter Sent To Prison

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A maximum five-year prison term was ordered Tuesday for Alvin J. Cupp, 32, of Toledo, Ohio, on his earlier plea of guilty to a charge involving a railroad tracks bombing in a labor dispute.

Cupp appeared for sentence here before U.S. District Judge W. Wallace Kent. He had interrupted a federal court jury trial Jan. 20 in Marquette to plead guilty to one count of conspiracy to violate the federal code's train wreck section.

At the time of his pleading, Judge Kent granted a government motion to dismiss two other counts against Cupp.

The judge at the same time granted a defense motion to dismiss charges against Jack A. Pearl, 34, of Toledo as a code-fendant with Cupp. Pearl now awaits municipal court examination at Marquette on a county charge of perjury in connection with the bombing case. He is free on $1,000 bond.

Voting Rights Bill May Pass Without Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shrinking Southern opposition indicated today that Senate leaders may be able to win passage of a voting rights bill without encountering a full-blast filibuster.

If lengthy talk should develop to threaten relatively speedy action, an Associated Press cross-section survey indicated that leaders could cut it off by mustering more than the necessary two-thirds majority of those voting.

President Johnson is expected to send the administration's formal version of legislation to Congress during the day. Democratic and Republican leaders have been working with Atty.

Raids Blow Up Ammunition In North Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 10 per cent of North Viet Nam's ammunition stockpile, a supply source for Viet Cong guerrillas in the south, was destroyed in two of the eight air strikes U.S. and South Vietnamese bombers made against North Viet Nam since Feb. 7.

This estimate, it was learned today, is based on the March 11 blasting of Xom Bang and the March 14 strike at Phu Qui. It does not take into account the attack last weekend on Tiger Island, a transhipping point for the movement of ammunition and other supplies by sea to the insurgents.

At least one of the recommendations brought back from Saigon by Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, has received swift approval by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top administration officials: more helicopter companies will be sent to South Viet Nam.

There are 400 helicopters there now. A helicopter company has about 25 machines.

There is a strong possibility 200 or 300 adviser-type U.S. military personnel will go to Viet Nam soon to increase the training programs for South Viet Nam's forces.

The persistent report, originating in Saigon, that the deployment of a whole U.S. Army division to Viet Nam was being recommended met with a flat "I deny it" from Johnson.

Tax Rejected In Two Cities

By The Associated Press
Voters in Jackson and Muskegon Tuesday overwhelmingly rejected city income tax propositions.

Jackson voters, by a 7,511 to 2,355 vote, turned down the plan which was coupled with a 25 per cent property tax reduction promise. City officials described the voter turnout as "moderately heavy."

At Muskegon, the vote was 6,183 to 2,188.

Both plans called for a one per cent income tax on residents and a one-half per cent tax on nonresidents who work in the city.

Jackson Mayor Bernie L. Magiera indicated there would be cutbacks in city services. He said planned pay raises for city employees would not now be possible.

Muskegon city commissioners estimated the tax would have raised a minimum of $900,000 a year. Before submitting the plan to voters, commissioners pledged one half of the proposed income tax revenue would be used to reduce real and personal property taxes.

Muskegon officials said about 8,500 of the city's 20,000 registered voters cast ballots in the election, a slightly larger turnout than expected.

Ireland Coming Closer To Unity

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Ireland celebrated St. Patrick's Day today amid real hope that old enmities are dying and that national unity is coming closer.

At this traditional time of national stocktaking, the emphasis everywhere was on moves to end the cold war that for more than 40 years has raged between the rival governments of the Roman Catholic south and Protestant Northern Ireland.

Sean Lemass, prime minister of the southern republic, set the keynote in his St. Patrick's Day message to Irishmen at home and abroad.

Negotiations Hopeful

Outstanding among developments of the past year, he said, were the talks which have opened between his government and that of the northern six counties, which still are part of the United Kingdom.

"It is my hope that, pending the reintegration of the national territory, action taken following these discussions will nullify many of the material disadvantages of the partition of Ireland as well as helping to bring nearer the day of reunification," Lemass said.

"The initiatives taken correspond to the need, clearly recognized by our people north and south, and to plan and work today for a better Ireland tomorrow."

Lemass appealed to Irishmen overseas to take a hand in the old country's development.

"Material progress continues at an encouraging pace," he said. "The rate of growth is now among the highest in the world."

"At this stage in our development, the interest of our people and our friends abroad is as important as ever."

Green Bagels Arrive
"You can all have a hand in building up Ireland. There is merchandise to buy. There are products in which you can invest."

There is our country, which offers relaxation and contentment to the visitor and the tourist."

Dublin celebrated the patron saint's day in traditional style, with church services both Catholic and Protestant, a big industrial parade through the capital and a full sports program.

A batch of green bagels arrived from America for Robert Briscoe, Dublin's first Jewish lord mayor.

Briscoe wasn't here to sample them — he is celebrating in Indianapolis — but his secretary tried one and said it was excellent. They came from a bakery in West Haven, Conn.

Back To Committee
Republicans will try to set up a detour, however. Since the bill was so drastically amended, said minority leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, it will have to be referred back to the ways and means committee.

The bill is an amended version of a measure submitted before the session by Rep. Mrs. Lucille McCollough, D-Deerborn. Under the bill, homeowners over 65 who have been residents of Michigan for five years and own homes with a state equalized valuation of $7,500 would receive an exemption on the first $2,500 of valuation.

Those who rent in a housing unit with a state equalized valuation of $7,500 would receive a grant equivalent to the tax on the first $2,500—estimated at something between $75 and $100.

The bill could affect as many as two-thirds of Michigan's 700,000 senior citizens, Mrs. McCollough said.

The state would reimburse local governments for tax losses, Kowalski said, of as much as $18 million a year.

Grant For Renters
The Democratic program was reported by the House General Taxation Committee Tuesday, reportedly after Democratic committee members were called into House Speaker Joseph Kowalski's office to discuss the bill.

It allows property tax exemptions for over-65 home owners and an out-right grant for renters who qualify.

Kowalski said the bill would pass in the House and be on its way to the Senate by the end of the week.

Democrats made sure of that date when they killed Romney's budget bills, allowing them to consider other appropriations measures, and when they amended House rules to allow three-fifths of the membership to suspend the rules. This enables majority Democrats to bypass Republicans any time the two-year registration was included in the recommendations of a committee appointed in 1953 by former Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Republicans said. Among its members was August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president.

Sons Of Erin Parade Today
NEW YORK (AP) — A great green tide surges up Fifth Avenue today as sons and daughters of Erin and hordes of Irishmen-for-a-day parade in honor of St. Patrick.

Estimates of the number of marchers ranged from 80,000 to 120,000, and the spectators up to 900,000 — depending on the weather.

The lineup included 225 marching units and 215 brass bands, pipe bands and fife and drum outfits assembled from far and wide.

The steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral, between 50th and 51st streets, were the vantage point for Francis Cardinal Spellman and other Roman Catholic prelates to view the parade.

In Boston — a traditional stronghold of Irish-Americans — today's parade had double significance: Evacuation Day as well as St. Patrick's Day. Evacuation Day commemorates the departure of the British from Dorchester Heights in 1776.

Senior Citizen Tax Relief Gets Push In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — With the legislative roadblocks down, an estimated $18 million senior citizen property tax relief bill was set today to race through both houses to Gov. George Romney's desk.

The liberalized Democratic measure most likely would reach the governor's desk before the recommendations of his own advisory committee on senior citizens tax relief.

Romney has been waiting for the report, due April 15, before making his recommendations.

Senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said Senate passage of the bill could come by next week. He said the house had acted somewhat faster than he expected and he would have to consult with Senate Taxation Committee chairman George Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe, before specific dates could be set.

Two-Year Voter Plan Dropped
LANSING (AP) — In a 71-37 party-line vote, House Democrats ended Republican debate over the merits of the two-year voter registration system and replaced it Tuesday with a four-year plan dropped in 1963.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

The two-year plan was designed, the minority said, to lessen the possibility of fraud and cut down the "deadwood" that has to be carried on four-year registration lists.

"This is a debate between those who want to make it more difficult and those who want to make it less difficult to vote," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit.

"It is a debate between those who would invite fraud and those who would like to oppose it," said Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena. "We only ask them to vote every two years or to fill out a short, simple form. Is that too much to ask?"

Majority floor leader J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, complained that Republicans have charged fraud in past elections and engaged in a concerted effort to scare minority groups away from the polls.

He added "There is no reason to disenfranchise those people who only want to vote very four years."

The two-year registration was included in the recommendations of a committee appointed in 1953 by former Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Republicans said. Among its members was August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president.

Winter Brings More Blizzards
By The Associated Press

A massive late winter storm clobbered the Midwest and the North Central states today, blocking highways, closing schools and crippling transportation. Tornadoes battered parts of the South.

From two to seven inches of new snow fell overnight in the southern two-thirds of Minnesota. Winds 25 to 35 miles caused huge drifts.

The Minnesota Highway Department said that visibility was poor to zero and all highways in the snow area, if not actually impassable, were heavy with snow.

Main roads in Wisconsin were snowpacked and slippery and drifts piled up on secondary roads. Snow and blowing was reported in North and South Dakota. With the heavy snow, colder weather moved in over the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Tusculum, Ala., near Muscle Shoals, reported a tornado hit that area this morning and unroofed one house and damaged homes, windows and power lines. At least 30 persons were reported injured, none seriously. A Tennessee Valley Authority power tower fell into the Tennessee River and blocked water traffic.

Injuries and damage were caused by a tornado at Booneville, Miss., 70 miles west of Tusculum, and tornado-like winds unroofed a school and caused other damage at Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

Dr. King Plans Protest March On Courthouse

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., claiming police brutality, planned to lead a march on the courthouse today to protest a rout of demonstrators by club-swinging sheriff's deputies.

The deputies, astride quick-starting quarter horses, clubbed white and Negro civil rights demonstrators in a bloody melee Tuesday that sent eight persons to hospitals.

"We cannot stand idly by and allow this to happen," King told his followers at a rally several hours later.

"We must get together a peaceful and orderly march on the courthouse in Montgomery."

Sit-Down Broken Up
The horsemen swung clubs, canes and ropes to break up a sit-down by about 600 persons, many of them white college students from other states. Among the injured was a white college teacher from Pennsylvania.

A state official said a mixer in police orders caused the deputies to nudge their horses into the demonstrators.

There were these other developments on the racial scene: —Gov. George C. Wallace permitted voter registration boards 10 extra days to process voter applications in six Alabama counties. They include Dallas, whose county seat is Selma, a center of civil rights activities for weeks.

—At Hayneville, Ala., the Board of Registrars announced that it has registered the first Negro voter in Lowndes County. Negroes outnumber white residents by a wide margin in the county.

President In Touch
—Civil rights leaders failed twice in attempts to march on the Dallas County courthouse at Selma. Police halted them.

—U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. ended a hearing here on a petition by Negro leaders to prevent police interference with a march from Selma to Montgomery. He took the case under advisement.

—A bill was introduced in the Alabama Senate to junk the state's voter literacy tests now under attack in the federal courts. The proposal would change the state's voter requirements to a sixth-grade education or the equivalent.

—President Johnson's press secretary said the chief executive was keeping in close touch with the Montgomery situation.

FBI agents on the scene of the Montgomery violence began an immediate investigation and others were called to Montgomery to help.

Police had blocked the march because no permit had been given. The horsemen then moved in.

Fail To See Wallace
Later 1,000 Negroes, with a permit from the City Commission, marched on the state Capitol with a petition for Wallace. They failed to see him and left after half an hour.

A Wallace aide said the governor had set up appointments with Negro college groups but the appointments were canceled after the march on the Capitol began to develop.

The governor had no comment on the horsemen's actions. The possemen were led by Sheriff Mac Sim Butler, riding a horse and wearing a Western-style hat, after the white and Negro college students refused to disperse.

The horsemen first routed a small group of demonstrators led by James Forman of Atlanta, executive secretary of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Sheriff Swings Cane
Forman wrapped his arms around a telephone pole. A posseman swung his club into the pole. Forman fled.

The sheriff was swinging a cane by the tip end. A college student of Japanese descent, Steven Kiyoshi Kuro-miya, 21, backed against a brick wall. A mounted deputy clubbed him and he fell, bleeding from the head.

The horsemen rode slowly to the standing crowd of about 500 white and Negro demonstrators across the street.

"Get out of here," the possemen yelled.

Swenson, College Paper Editor To Tour Thailand

Bill Swenson, son of Mrs. Gladys Swenson, 1916 1st Ave. So., Escanaba, has been named editor of The Clarion, student publication at Bethel College in St. Paul.

The Clarion is published weekly and serves a readership of 1,200. It was recently awarded an All-American or "superior" rating for the 1964-1965 academic year by the Association of Collegiate Presses (ACP).

Swenson, a junior social science major concentrating in political science and history, moved up from the associate editorship for a two semester term. He was graduated from Escanaba Area High School in 1962 and received an Anna C. Norton scholarship. While in high school he wrote for the Escanaba and attended the University of Michigan Summer Journalism Workshop co-sponsored by the school and the Escanaba Daily Press.

He is one of 12 students from nine Minnesota Colleges preparing to visit Thailand during the summer under the auspices of the 1965 Student Project for Amity among Nations (SPAN). While in Southeast Asia he will research a thesis on the new gathering procedure and the development of Thai democracy.

SPAN projects involve interviews, visits to appropriate institutions, documentary investigations and living with families in the host countries. Students receive academic credit for their projects by preparing research papers on their return.

Although SPANers pay most of their own expenses abroad, a scholarship fund, raised annually, assists them. In addition, Swenson will receive a faculty scholarship and student contributions from Bethel College.

Unpaid Taxes Low In City

Collections of city, county and school taxes in Escanaba for 1964 are in excess of those collected for the same period a year ago, it is reported by City Clerk Don Guindon.

As of March 15 this year, the delinquent taxes returned to the county treasurer for collection from Escanaba city was $55,576.97.

This compares to $58,876.43 for the same period a year ago. The city clerk reported that city tax collections this year were 96.90 of the total levy, compared to 97.11 a year ago; and that county and school taxes this year were 94.65 collected compared to 94.43 last year.

men shouted. The crowd stayed. The horsemen started swinging clubs, canes and doubled lengths of rope. Some demonstrators ran. Others fell. A white coed was knocked down.

"Watch that whip!" shouted a demonstrator.

Another youth fell, blood pouring from a wound. Two men picked him up. Two persons were taken away in ambulances.

City prosecutor Dave Crossland said the sheriff had been asked only to disperse the small group and to help contain the others.

Asst. Police Chief D. H. Lackey said of the clubbing: "I don't feel like it was necessary. All our orders were to hold them and contain them. How they got the word to disperse this crowd, I don't know."

WHO GAVE ORDER? MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Who gave the order for Sheriff Mac Sim Butler's mounted posse to charge into a group of young white and Negro civil rights demonstrators?

It wasn't the city police, say Chief Marvin Stanley and Asst. Chief D. H. Lackey.

The county's chief prosecutor, Dave Crossland, says he relayed an order to the sheriff Tuesday shortly before more than a dozen deputies on horseback rode into the crowd, swinging clubs, walking sticks and ropes.

But Crossland says the instructions, with no mention of clubbing, came from someone else — he doesn't remember who — and that he merely relayed them. And, the prosecutor added, the deputies were supposed to round up a stray group of demonstrators, not the larger force which was attacked.

Stanley replied sharply that "we did not issue any order."

Stanley made it clear that he disagreed with the club-swinging. "Our policy," he said, "had always been to meet non-violence with non-violence."

Lackey said "I don't feel the violence was necessary." He said none of his men asked the mounted posse to move against the demonstrators who were standing in a street, trying in vain to march to the state Capitol.

The sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the county. As a matter of practice, he has followed a policy of letting the police handle matters within the city.

Butler was unavailable for comment on Tuesday's mixup. So was Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan.

Harnischfeger Out Of Pre-Fab Homes Business

MILWAUKEE — Harnischfeger Corp. announced here today that it is discontinuing the manufacture of prefabricated homes.

Henry Harnischfeger, president, said that the company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Harnischfeger Homes, Inc., will close down its plants in Port Washington Wis., and Jacksonville, Ark.

He said an agreement had been reached with Kingsberry Homes corporation, Chamblee, Ga., to take over the sales organization and to purchase certain assets of Harnischfeger homes.

The discontinuance of home manufacturing operations is another of a series of moves by Harnischfeger to direct its resources more fully to the operations of its three principal divisions — industrial products, construction and mining, and electrical products, the company said. These divisions offer better sales, profit, and growth potential, Harnischfeger said.

The Abbey of Montecassino, Italy, was blasted to rubble by U.S. bombers in World War II in the belief that Nazi soldiers were using it as a bastion to pin down the Allies in their drive from Anzio to Rome.

Cook Says 'No' To Cabinet Post

Donald C. Cook, president of the American Electric Power Co., New York City, and a native of Escanaba, has said "no" to his friend, President Lyndon B. Johnson.

From various news sources comes the word that Cook, widely reported as the choice of the Presidency for secretary of the treasury, has turned down the cabinet post.

Preparations were started here for a day of celebration, at which Cook would be honored as the man in the third or fourth most influential post in the world today.

Asked the reason for rejecting the position, Cook told news media:

"When you're deeply enmeshed in something and are too close to it, there is a tendency to become myopic."

"If you're apart—away from the scene but still a close observer—you can get a clearer picture of what's going on and develop deeper insights than the people who are right there."

"My own personal circumstances dictated my choice and the result, but I hope to be able to make useful contributions to the President from time to time."

China And The War

The war in South Viet Nam gets more serious in its implications as the United States gets more involved in it and no one knows yet what our expanded role will mean in terms of reaction.

We are really at war in South Viet Nam with Red China.

What Red China decides to do about our insistence that we will stay in South Viet Nam until North Viet Nam stops its guerrilla war there will determine the outcome of our effort.

Washington hasn't been able to determine yet how the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese will react to our attacks on North Viet Nam. We have had the reflex action of the Communists everywhere — condemnation and threat — but the Russians haven't moved and appear to be trying to avoid deeper involvement, and the Chinese haven't acted.

If the Viet Cong win in South Viet Nam, Mao Tse-tung, the ruler of Red China, will have been proved right in his policy of violent revolution and "national wars of liberation" and the pressures now being exerted on South Viet Nam will be transferred to other Southeast Asia countries to conquer them. Laos will see a step-up of Communist conquest. Thailand and Cambodia will come more under the hammer.

To understand our problem in South Viet Nam it is necessary to understand what's happening in Red China. Our American command knows this picture well and it is asking only a stalemate in South Viet Nam, not a victory. It has told Hanoi, Peking and Moscow its terms for a pullout of American forces in South Viet Nam.

These terms are: Acceptable evidence that the Reds have stopped sending troops and weapons into South Viet Nam; start of withdrawal of their troops and arms there, and a suspension of Viet Cong attacks. Until these conditions are met, the United States will continue its air raids against North Viet Nam. When these conditions are met a stalemate, not necessarily negotiated or announced (so that there can be face-saving all around) will be accepted.

If Red China agrees to this compromise it will be somewhat surprising, because it has made its great progress of the past half decade by being unrelentingly belligerent.

Peking's break with Russia was probably inevitable because a nation with a population estimated up to 750 million isn't going to knuckle under to a smaller nation (populationwise) with good grace forever, but at the time that Mao made the break Peking was heavily dependent upon Russia both militarily and economically.

China isn't on good economic footing yet, but it has made great progress since its great troubles of a few years ago in the disastrous Great Leap Forward campaign to industrialize and its boasts that it has done all this without outside help. This is a strong ploy in its relationships with the backward nations, but it doesn't mention that Red China today is the greatest police state in the world. The Russians enjoy relative freedom comparatively.

But China's great breakthrough has been a diplomatic one. It hasn't gained admittance to the United Nations yet, but each test brings it nearer and its entry is inevitable if it chooses to become a member. Its greatest achievement, has been in establishing itself as a third world power center outside the orbits of the United States and Russia.

World communism no longer has Russia for its pole. Peking is a strong alternate capital and it has created a new world situation of diplomacy where the United States is beyond recognition and our erstwhile allies — France, Canada, Japan, Australia and most of the Western European nations — now have diplomatic relations with Peking.

Red China is a ground power and the United States is beyond its military reach at present. The United States is an air and sea power. It cannot hold South Viet Nam if Peking decides to take it, but it can make the effort immensely costly for the Chinese, so much that the prestige that would be the reason for such a conquest would probably be lost in the process.

So a world power play is underway in the South Viet Nam theater. We're using bombs to try to force a stalemate and cessation of hostilities in the certain knowledge that a pullout without a settlement of sorts will only mean another quick challenge.

What My Faith Means To Me

Bethany Lutheran Church

What my faith means to me is perhaps best expressed in John 3:16, "For God so loved the world . . ." To me this means that God like any good Father has the welfare of his children at heart, and even though His children may be somewhat delinquent, His love and concern are not diminished.

It means that since I couldn't make it on my own, God sent His Son so that I could. It also means however, that in accepting His Son, I also accept the commission of all Christians, "Go ye therefore into all the world . . ." I have a responsibility to spread the Gospel by word and deed, hence Christianity then becomes a way of life.

I am quite weak in this department, often being neither valuable or a good example however, to use an old quote, "I ain't what I should be, I ain't what I'm gonna be, but anyhow, I ain't what I was." Yet on the other hand because of Christ's resurrection, I am a child of God in spite of my short comings and for this I am very very grateful.

If We Get Out of Asia

Virtues Accented

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Full-length mirrors are being put in kindergarten classrooms in Racine, Wis. Principals have been told to order cameras to make pupil snapshots. The pictures will be put on classroom bulletin boards.

In experimental Portland, Ore., classes, teachers encourage their students to use the word "I" wherever possible. A seventh-grade group gives major attention to discussing "Who am I? What am I? Where am I going? How can I get there?"

President Johnson's idea for having programs tailored to meet the needs of "culturally deprived" children is not new. Experiments have been going on for a number of years in several score U. S. school systems.

Interestingly, findings in some of these programs suggest the best results are produced when teaching aims are shifted back to the old-fashioned virtues — "self-reliance," "self-direction," "independence" and "personal self worth," even though the teaching methods to achieve these ends have fancier descriptions than in grandpa's day.

The techniques mentioned above are all attempts to achieve these ends.

The Racine mirrors are set up, of course, so that young children can look at themselves (many of the "deprived," they say, "for the first time"). The experimenters say this helps the youngsters "see" themselves as individuals—and incidentally "does wonders for their personal grooming."

The snapshots and the concentration on "I" are aimed at the same search for individuality and self-initiative.

In Dade County, Fla., community service awards to high school graduates provide free tuition at Miami-Dade Junior College. In return, these young people agree to lead preschool classes 2½ hours a day.

In a Boston, Mass., pilot program, "junior" first grade classes have been organized as a halfway step between kindergarten and grade one for "slow" children.

A Cincinnati, Ohio, elementary school has added special classes in journalism, creative writing, Junior Great Books and geology taught by local citizens.

The Pyle School, Wilmington, Del., has monthly Men's Day Luncheons where business and professional men join the boys.

In South Bend, Ind., children not working up to their potential are invited to attend an evening community center where they're tutored by students from local colleges, retired teachers and other interested citizens.

In Baltimore, Md., parents are invited to small luncheon meetings, where they are shown easy, practical ways to help their children learn.

In San Francisco, Calif., parents are encouraged to take time off from work to accompany groups of young students on field trips.

Some Minnesota University students have set up a buddy system with underprivileged youngsters. They study, go to shows and attend ball games together.

These examples only scratch the surface.

The Doctor Says:

Farming Dangerous

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

The mechanized farmer must learn to be his own safety expert.

Since it is estimated that farm accidents cause close to 9,000 deaths annually in this country, farming is now a dangerous occupation. Furthermore for every death about 90 disabling accidents occur on the farm each year.

These rates have not shown the downward trend seen in industry, where safety engineers are now an essential part of every big company. The mechanization on the farm that has enabled one man to do much more work than he used to do is largely responsible for the alarming increase in farm accidents.

When a farmer is injured the crops and livestock can't wait for him to recover. Since more than 90 per cent of all farm accidents are caused by human failure, preventive measures are essential. The farmer should paint these words on his barn:

Inspection, correction, protection.
Impatience and haste are at the root of many accidents.

One especially serious hazard on the farm is the presence of children. They don't think of the farm as the factory where daddy works—they think of it as home.

Since many farm accidents involve children they must be taught from infancy to stay away from all heavy equipment except when under the direct supervision of an adult who has been trained to operate it safely. They must also be taught proper respect for the farm animals. Even without the benefit of mechanization these animals can still bite, kick, peck or scratch.

The only safe way to operate a tractor is to enforce the "no riders" rule. Special caution must be taken in driving any kind of moving equipment on a steep slope. Many farmers have been crushed under overturned tractors and runaway vehicles from which they have momentarily dismounted.

Farm accidents are preventable. Accident prevention is necessary for survival. Every farmer must take the attitude that accident prevention is as important as animal husbandry and crop production.

CORRECTION
(A communication by the Rev. Gordon Thorpe in the March 15 issue of the Escanaba Daily Press contained a typographical error. The corrected paragraph follows:)

Mr. Riedlsperger is correct when he points out the difficulty or even the immorality of legislating morality. But he missed my point completely, which is the opposite side of the coin, namely, that to make something legal or popular does not therefore make it right. It is possible for one man to be right (moral) and the whole world to be wrong!

Cement Carrier Opens Shipping Season In Lakes

ALPENA (AP) — The Huron Portland Cement Co. steamer S. T. Crapow opened the 1965 Great Lakes shipping season Monday when it arrived here from Detroit to pick up a load of cement.

Once loaded, the vessel headed back down to Detroit and was expected to arrive Wednesday.

Capt. James M. Burke reported the trip upward as uneventful although his ship was escorted by the Coast Guard cutter Acacia for some 25 miles through ice fields.

The vessel had been docked in Detroit during the winter.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is a great gal and we get along just fine. The only real problem is that Jessie is insanely jealous.

I couldn't cheat on Jessie even if I wanted to (which I don't) because she knows where I am every minute and I am never any place I shouldn't be.

The other day I made some harmless remark about a waitress like, "That's what I call a built broad." Jessie blew her stack right there in the restaurant.

Last night it happened again. We were at a party and one of the guests brought her sister from Toledo. All I said was, "That girl should never wear anything but a sweater for two very good reasons."

Jessie yanked me into the other room and told me if I didn't stop talking rotten she would "take steps."

Honest, Ann, I am just a fun-loving guy who doesn't mean any harm. If you have any suggestions on how I can get along better with my wife I'd like to hear them. — EIGHT BALL

Dear Eight: There's an old Hebrew expression that loses a lot in translation but I think you'll get the idea: "If you don't want to hear a cat yowl, don't step on its tail."

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I visited in the home of friends. There were seven adults and two teen-agers seated at the dinner table.

Half way through dinner one of the adults turned to the teenage boy and said, "Why in the world do you wear your hair that way? Are you trying to attract attention or do you want to advertise the fact that you are a non-conformist?"

The boy did not reply but his cheeks flushed and it was obvious that he was deeply embarrassed. The adult harassed that boy about his haircut for ten minutes, with one taunting insult after another. I was so uncomfortable I actually got indigestion.

We teach our children to respect their elders but how can we expect children to be respectful in the face of such cruelty? My evening was ruined. I was sorry I could not speak out for the boy but I didn't wish to offend my host by starting an argument in his home. Will you comment, please? — MEMPHIS

Defense Motions Denied, Trial Set In Loomis Case

CHICAGO — (Special) — Defense motions to suppress confessions of two Chicago men awaiting trial for their parts in the kidnap-murder of an Indianapolis man whose body was found in Michigan's Upper Peninsula last November were denied Tuesday in Federal District Court by Judge Michael Igoe.

The judge set trial for April 26.

Held are Ray Weddell, 42, and Phillip A. Battaglia Jr., 23, both of Chicago.

Thorburn is charged with aggravated kidnapping in the murder of 39-year-old William R. Loomis of Indianapolis. Battaglia and a third man, Robert D. Lazzaro, 27, also of Chicago, are charged with abetting kidnapping.

All three men are being held without bond after pleading innocent to the charges when arraigned earlier.

Defendants Testify

Nicholas P. Chapekis, Delta County prosecutor, told the Daily Press by telephone yesterday that both Thorburn and Battaglia took the witness stand to testify at the preliminary hearing.

Thorburn dressed smartly in a business suit and bow tie, and Battaglia, dressed in slacks, a white shirt and sweater, each were represented by counsel.

In testimony, the defense attempted to establish that confessions the two men signed were illegally obtained and thus inadmissible as evidence.

Federal prosecutors counter with testimony from Thorburn's arresting officers of the Missouri State Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents from Chicago who arrested Battaglia.

This rainbow, weighing 13 1/2 pounds, was 16 1/2 inches long and was caught by Mrs. Nell Seger of Rock. The trout, after weighing and having its picture taken, was returned to the Bay.

Rainbow Trout Thrive In Bay

Rainbow trout planted last summer by "Operation Bootstrap" in the upper waters of Little Bay de Noc are being caught by ice fishermen this winter.

And, according to reports on their sizes, the trout are thriving.

Elmer White, a member of the "Operation Bootstrap" committee and owner of White's Bayshore Cabins and Bait Shop next to the public fishing site at Kipling, said Tuesday that trout have been reported caught all winter.

Though trout must be released because they are out of season, White said fishermen have reported rainbows of near two pounds and 17 inches in length.

Tonight's quarterfinal games in the Michigan high school basketball tournament mean something special for the players and followers of six of the surviving 32 teams.

It marks the first time that any of the six have won regional crowns and earned the right to play in the final week.

Topping the list is Southfield in Class A, scheduled to meet Walled Lake at Ypsilanti. Southfield finished the regular season with an unspectacular 9-8 mark and had won only one tournament game in the last 15 years.

Others still beaming over their first regional championships are scene of what is expected to be the best game of the night when defending Class B River Rouge tangles with unbeaten Fenton.

River Rouge, seeking its fifth straight state title, is in sixth place among all-time regional winners with 13 crowns.

No team has ever approached the Panthers' record of the last dozen years. During that span River Rouge failed to win its regional title only two times—in 1957 and 1960.

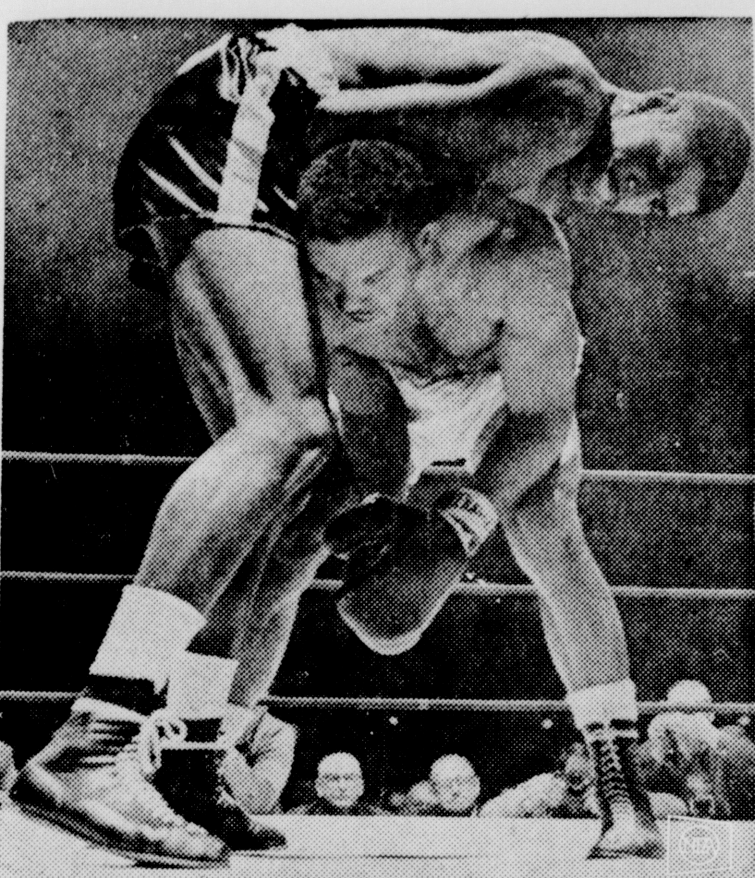

Among the many surprise teams still in action is defending Class C champion Grosse Pte. St. Paul. Despite a good regular season record, the Lakers faced an unusually tough field in district play.

St. Paul will take its 17-4 record against Flint St. Agnes (18-3) at Rochester.

Elation over their successes in the previous two weeks will turn to disappointment for half the teams.

For the others, it means a weekend trip to the Lansing area and a chance to participate in one of the most exciting sports attractions of the year.

Semifinal games will be held at six sites in the Lansing area Friday night, with the four championship tilts slated for Jensen Fieldhouse on the Michigan State University campus Saturday.

PAUSE THAT REFRESHES—That's Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association Heavyweight champion, leaning on Eddie Machen, the man he defeated for the title. Neither boxer seems to mind, though. It's always good to take those brief rests.

New York, Army Quintets Back In Familiar Spots

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University and Army find themselves in a familiar spot. Only they hope the spot becomes unfamiliar after Thursday night.

The basketball teams joined top-seeded Villanova and St. John's in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament, NYU defeating Detroit 87-76 and Army outlasting Western Kentucky 58-54 Tuesday night.

In the semifinal round Army will meet St. John's before NYU battles Villanova, the nation's eighth-ranked team.

This marks the second straight year Army and NYU have reached the semifinals. But that's as far as they went last year. Eventual champion Bradley whipped the Cadets 67-52, and New Mexico beat NYU 72-65. Army then nipped the Violets 60-59 for third place.

Both teams face difficult times in surpassing their 1964 achievements. Villanova has a 22-4 record, Jim Washington and Bill Melchionni while St. John's has momentum, Ken McIntyre and Sonny Dove.

"New York has a good solid club, but Villanova has an edge," Coach Bob Calihan of Detroit said after his team bowed out of the tournament.

Coach Johnny Oldham of Western Kentucky said the better defense will win for Army or St. John's.

"Army will be stronger physically," he added. "St. John's is better on outside shooting. St. John's must contain Mike Silliman and John Ritch; Army must contain Dove and McIntyre."

As for McIntyre, who has scored 62 points in two NIT games, Army Coach Bates Locke said: "The way he's shooting, we'll have to guard him with a two-man."

The Cadets didn't trail Western Kentucky after the first few minutes. It wasn't until the final minutes, though, that their victory was assured. Silliman and Ritch each scored 17 points with Silliman scoring four clutch points and throwing a key pass to Ritch for another basket near the end.

A big factor in the NYU triumph was Detroit's loss of 6-foot-8 Dorie Murrey on personal fouls with nearly 18 minutes to play.

RIVALS 25 YEARS AGO
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp and Harry Lancaster, his assistant for the last 16 years, once were opponents.

Lancaster captained Georgetown (Ky.) College, the first opponent faced by a Rupp-coached Kentucky team. That was in 1930. Lancaster opened the scoring with a goal. The Wildcats won, though, 67-19.

Tigers Fashion Initial Victory In Spring Loop

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — It wasn't according to the book but it was the Detroit Tigers' first grapefruit league victory.

Lefthanded batter Gates Brown pounded a two-run double in the ninth-inning off southpaw Joe Hoerner to score two runs. It gave the Tigers a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros Tuesday.

Houston manager Lum Harris had called in Hoerner to pitch after interim Tiger manager Bob Swift sent Brown to bat for Terry Fox. Swift looked around for righthanded batter to take Brown's place but there wasn't one. So he motioned Brown to go ahead and hit.

It was Brown's only swing of the day. A pulled muscle had kept him out of batting practice. The Tigers had loaded the bases on Willie Horton's single, a hit batsman and Jake Wood's safe bunt.

After seven scoreless innings, Houston took a 4-0 lead on Walt Bond's run-scoring single and RBI's off the bats of Mike White and Russ Staub. The fourth run came in on Wood's throwing error.

Detroit got three runs back in the last of the eighth on George Smith's homer. Claude Raymond was the mound victim.

Former Tiger bonus baby Bob Bruce and Dick Farrell held Detroit scoreless over the first six innings. Hank Aguirre and Phil Regan held the Astros in check over the same span.

The victory, Detroit's first in three exhibition games, was credited to Fox who pitched the final inning.

Yank News Is All Bad

By The Associated Press

Nine American League clubs have been keeping an anxious watch on baseball developments in the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., area this spring. The news, so far, is all bad.

Item: CBS tops the Grapefruit Circuit with a perfect rating.

Item: Whitey Ford's new left arm may be an improvement on the original.

Item: Mickey Mantle has the tape-measure gang on the run.

Item: Young Yankees carry big bats, too.

The New York Yankees, getting set to open their bid for an unprecedented sixth straight pennant, scored five runs in the bottom of the ninth inning and edged Pittsburgh 6-5 Tuesday at Fort Lauderdale for their fifth exhibition victory without a loss.

The triumph over the previously unbeaten Pirates left the CBS-owned Yankees — and manager Johnny Keane — with the only perfect spring mark in the majors.

Ford and Mantle, physical question marks two weeks ago, continued to make healthy contributions while four rookies came up with key hits in the ninth-inning uprising.

Ford, making his second exhibition appearance after undergoing surgery on his pitching shoulder, blanked the Pirates on two hits over the first four innings. The 36-year-old southpaw has not been scored on and has allowed only four hits in seven innings.

Mantle hit his second spring homer, a 440-foot drive over the left-field fence, and patrolled his old center field post with no apparent strain on his injury-prone knees.

Trailing 5-1 in the ninth, the Yankees knotted the score on run-scoring singles by Arturo Lopez and Roger Repoz and Billy Madden's two-run triple. Mike Hegan then delivered the winning run with his third hit of the game.

Ralph Terry, an ex-Yankee, turned in a masterful pitching performance for the Cleveland Indians. The veteran right-hander worked six scoreless innings, allowing two hits, as the Indians stymied the Los Angeles Angels 7-0. Rocky Colavito, obtained from Kansas City during the winter, led the Cleveland attack with two homers.

Frank Howard and John Kennedy, principals in a trade between Washington and the Los Angeles Dodgers, also sparkled for their new clubs. Howard's two-run homer helped the Senators down the Chicago White Sox 7-5 and Kennedy had three hits in the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over St. Louis.

Ninth-inning bursts won for Detroit, San Francisco, Baltimore and the New York Mets.

The Tigers overcame Houston 5-4 on Gates Brown's two-run double; the Giants nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5 on Jose Pagan's RBI single and the Orioles snapped a three-game losing string when rookie Paul Blair who had hit a two-run homer earlier, stroked a run-scoring single for a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee.

The Mets, beaten three times by one run, turned the tables on Cincinnati's B squad when Ron Hunt stole home for a 5-4 decision.

The Reds' first-stringers whipped Kansas City 6-3, with catcher John Edwards collecting a homer, double and two singles. Outfielder Alex Johnson clubbed two homers and two singles in Philadelphia's 8-4 victory over Minnesota.

Detroit Prep Athlete Seeks Boxing Crown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Al Jones of Detroit has some support in pursuit of a 160-pound title in the 38th National Golden Gloves championships.

Jones is president of Detroit's Western High senior class.

All those votes won in a landslide election aren't helping much at Kansas City, but Al also has a couple of good fists going for him. He stopped Ken Pemberton of Lowell, Mass., at 1:55 of the first round Tuesday night. The second-round victory moved him into Wednesday's quarterfinals.

Several other Detroit and Grand Rapids boys are still in the running. Two others were ousted.

Detroit's Hedgeman Lewis, national lightweight champion a year ago, moved up to the welter class (147 pounds) with a couple of victories in the first two rounds.

A terrific puncher, Lewis gained a first-round victory over Homer Jacsoowell, Boston, Mass. In the second round, Lewis outpointed Jim Caldwell of Kenosha, Wis.

John Hall of Grand Rapids got by the first round with a decision over Tom Beedle of Des Moines. But Hall was knocked out at 1:40 of the third round of his second round bout with Eddie Betson of Springfield, Ill.

Another Grand Rapids fighter, Bob Tucker, joined Jones in the 160-pound quarterfinals with two victories. In the first round, Tucker stopped Ricky Ballenger of Charlotte, N. C., at 1:31 of the first round. He also won a second-round decision over Bob Porter of Minneapolis.

Larry Charleston of Detroit is a quarterfinalist in the 175-pound bracket. He KO'd Jerry Evans of Muncie, Ind., at 1:53 of the second round in his opening bout, then came back to outpoint Charles Mays of Toledo, Ohio, in his second fight.

Robert Parker of Grand Rapids made the second round in the same division with a decision over Del Berry of Billings, Mont.

Detroit's Charles Haynes is still alive in the heavyweight quarterfinals after stopping Melvin Brown of St. Louis at 1:03 of the third round.

But Dean Oswald of Grand Rapids, who won his first bout, was eliminated in the second round of heavyweight competition when he was outpointed by Phil Paris of Roswell, N. M.

Everybody Will Guard Bradley Says UM Coach

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — No, there's little or no chance of a head-to-head clash between Princeton's Bill Bradley and Michigan's Cazzie Russell when the two teams meet Friday in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships.

"I'd say it's very doubtful that Russell will be guarding Bradley," said Michigan Coach Dave Strack by a four-way telephone hook-up with the four coaches whose teams are in the tourney.

"I'm not sure who will be guarding him."

"Probably everybody."

Strack was apparently reluctant to talk about Bradley, Princeton's two-time All-American and Player of the Year.

He's still haunted by the memory of Bradley's performance in the only previous meeting this season, in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival in New York.

Bradley scored 41 points in that game and propelled Princeton to a 12-point lead over the nation's No. 1 college basketball team before he fouled out with 3½ minutes left. Michigan won it on a 20-foot jump shot by Russell also an All-American, in the last few seconds.

Michigan, still ranked No. 1 with a 23-3 record, plays Princeton, 22-5, in the first game of the Friday night semifinal double-header. Second-ranked UCLA, the defending champion with a 26-2 record, plays Wichita, 21-7 and unranked, in the nightcap.

The winners meet Saturday in the nationally televised final for the national championship. Game time is 10 p.m., EST.

Council Is Offered $725,000 For Escanaba's Gas Utility

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit, has offered the City of Escanaba $725,000 for its municipal gas distribution system.

The sale of the utility to Michigan Consolidated was recommended to the Council by its Natural Gas Advisory committee last night. The Advisory committee also endorsed a "yes" vote on the proposition by the people of Escanaba.

Before the utility could be sold, the question would have to be approved by a three-fifths or 60 per cent vote of the people. This election will probably be held about the first week in June.

The negotiations on price and the report of the Advisory committee to the Council last night followed many hours of meetings at the City Hall beginning Monday night.

To Rapid River

The steps taken so far have important implications to the economy of the Escanaba area and its people and mark one of the developments in the struggle to bring to the region the benefits of a supply of natural gas for fuel for homes, for farms, commercial establishments, and for industry.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has applied for and is expected to receive Federal Power Commission approval about April 1 of its application to extend natural gas service from Menominee north and east to Iron Mountain, Powers-Spalding, Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River.

Of all of the area to be served, Escanaba is the only place where there is a municipal gas distribution system. The Escanaba gas utility is now the only municipal system in Michigan. A municipal gas system at Ypsilanti was recently purchased by Michigan Consolidated for $415,000.

Council Unanimous

The Escanaba City Council in accepting the recommendation of its Natural Gas Advisory committee did so only after weeks of study and consideration.

First the Council retained consulting engineers Black & Veatch to make a study and recommendation; then the Advisory committee was appointed; and finally there was concluded at last night's special meeting in the City Hall the negotiations that brought an offer of $725,000 for the gas utility.

The Advisory Committee is composed of Paul Vardigan, chairman; Wesley Hansen, Rodger Baker, Peter Ross and John Baker.

There was unanimous acceptance of the Advisory committee report by Mayor George Rusch, and Councilmen Glen Moreau, Harold Vanierberghe and H. George Nelson. Councilman Jacob Bink is receiving treatment in Veterans Hospital at Iron Mountain.

Representing Black & Veatch was William Chaney, the consulting engineers retained by the city.

Million Dollar Fund

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. had its Executive Vice President Hugh Daly here for the meeting, accompanied by Bradford Thompson, the firm's design engineer, and Philip Sherwood, in charge of economic studies.

Mayor George Rusch expressed the Council's appreciation to Controller Frank Bourke acting City Attorney James Fitzharris, City Manager George Harvey and to the Advisory committee.

"With the $725,000 from the sale, plus about $350,000 in reserves at the end of this year, it would give the city about $1,075,000," said the mayor. "Invested and giving a return of 4 per cent interest, the city would have revenues of $45,000 to $50,000 annually that could be used for a number of capital improvements projects."

Daly said he was pleased at the "satisfactory conclusion" and that he believed "this is a good proposition for the city and for the Gas Co." He added that he hopes there will be an affirmative vote of the people.

Best Possible Price

"Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has been in business for 110 years and I expect we will continue for many more. We look forward to a happy and mutually beneficial association in serving the Escanaba area," he said.

Mayor Rusch said that "I feel in all good conscience that your City Council has come up with the best possible price after long and careful consideration."

"The best interests of Escanaba have been served, in my opinion," he added.

Daly had submitted figures to the Federal Power Commission and to the City Council showing cost comparisons to heat the average home in the U. P. with gas, oil and coal.

Steam Plant Out

The cost of natural gas would be an average of $160 annually, stoker coal would be $186 or 16 per cent higher than gas, soft coal (hand fired) would be $250 or 56 per cent higher than gas, and oil would be $253 or 58 per cent higher than gas, Daly reported.

Michigan Consolidated would pay cash for the gas utility. The proposal to purchase includes gas system and the central steam heating utility. The city would retain the steam plant building, however.

The steam utility would be "phased out" over a period of two heating seasons. There are about 1,800 city gas customers and about 120 steam heating customers. The steam heating customers would be expected to install natural gas because of the lower cost to them.

Daly said Michigan Consolidated has a "wide variety" of free services for its customers. It will sell gas appliances but it will not engage in the conversion business, he told the Council.

Sept. 1 Target Date

Pipe is now on order, easements for the pipeline have been obtained between Rapid River and Menominee, and if the FPC approves (as it seems certain to do) Michigan Consolidated can have natural gas service for the U. P. by Sept. 1, Daly said.

Alternative for the City of Escanaba (if the sale of the gas utility is rejected by the people) will be to convert the present propane system to handle natural gas, which would be purchased from Michigan Consolidated.

The cost of making the necessary improvements would be considerable, service would not be extended as the private firm would do, and there would continue the liability of the city in operating a utility for which it has not insurance protection. Because of the high cost of insurance, gas utility reserves in the amount of $350,000 had to be accumulated to meet possible claims.

Indian's Plight Told To Rotary

Where the blacktop ends and the electric power lines stop — that's where the Hannaville Indian reservation begins. Rector Ben Helmer of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church told the Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

The plight of the band of Potawatomies (about 165 persons in 28 families) who live on federal lands in the Harris-Wilson community was described to the club.

They are the remnants of a group of Indians who escaped when other Potawatomies were being moved to Kansas at the point of the bayonet after the Chicago Treaty of 1833, the Rev. Helmer said.

Own Nothing

The Indians choose the name "Hannaville" for their community, honoring Hanna Markham, wife of Peter Markham, Methodist minister, who had more than 3,900 acres set aside in Northern Michigan for the group that originally numbered about 200 persons.

Today they are a handsome and intelligent people, a few with white blood, but they are dependent on the whites, lack incentive and alcoholism is a problem. The land is held in trust for them by the government. They do not own it, nor their houses.

They receive welfare food and medical aid. There is opportunity for good schooling for them at Bark River but parents do not insist on attendance. Scholarships are available for worthy youths but few are applied for.

None of the homes of the Indians have inside plumbing; there is electric power, a phone and TV at only one.

To Build Homes

The American Indian Foundation, Home Extension and a group of Gladstone women, Catholic Charities and others seek to aid the group.

They work part time but few have ever held a regular job. Only three of the families have incomes of more than $2,000 a year, about 13 families have incomes of $1,500, the others have less. They are supplied with surplus foods.

Their homes are old and in poor condition. A Housing Authority for the reservation has been created, with the Rev. Helmer chairman, and "we hope by a year from this summer to be building homes." The Indians will do most of the work and pay for them over a period of years.

Other members of the Building Authority are Joe Sagataw, Wilson, secretary, and head of the Indian Council; Amos Meshigaud, vice chairman; Paul Nickell, Bark River, treasurer; and Lester Walcutt of Daggett.

Fighter-Bombers Of U. S. Batter Targets In Laos

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. jet fighter-bombers apparently raided Communist areas in Laos again today, dropping more than 20 tons of high-explosive bombs.

More than a dozen planes, including six F105 fighter-bombers, took off from the Da Nang air base on a secret mission. They flew west, in the direction of Laos, where U. S. Air Force jets have made repeated raids on Communist supply lines in recent weeks.

The F105s returned to Da Nang with their bomb racks empty.

GLADSTONE

Norton, Kee Seek Commission Posts

Municipal contests for the spring election in Gladstone took on the appearance of "open and shut" cases today after the deadline for filing nominating petitions expired Tuesday.

Two men — incumbent Raymond P. Norton and Gene Kee — have filed for two vacant places on the city commission and current office holder A. J. Mortier is the only aspirant for Justice of the Peace.

Two commissioners will be elected April 5 to fill the expiring terms of Reuben Sjoquist and Norton.

Invite Donors To Blood Bank

The Mobile Unit of the Badger Blood Bank will be at the James T. Jones School Tuesday, March 30 from 3 to 7 p. m. for their first visit in 1965.

Gladstone residents should redouble their efforts to exceed their quota of 72 pints since two Gladstone people have received blood from the unit recently.

Robert Anderson, local police officer, and Christy Matt, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Matt, 1323 Wisconsin Ave., both had open surgery this month and used many pints of blood during the course of their operations.

Sunday, Anderson had further emergency surgery at St. Vincent Hospital, Green Bay, to repair an ulcer and it is reported approximately 16 pints of blood were used at that time. On Tuesday his condition was reported to be satisfactory.

According to George Matt, Christy will be dismissed from Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit on March 23.

Donors may register with the Red Cross for their appearance at the Blood Bank or may walk in at their convenience.

Members of the W. S. C. S. of Memorial Methodist church will service the canteen.

Meshigaud Bound To Circuit Court On Forgery Count

William Earl Meshigaud, 30, Rte. 1, Wilson, waived examination when arraigned Tuesday before Justice A. J. Mortier on two counts of forgery and was bound over to Delta County Circuit Court for trial.

Unable to post $500 bond, Meshigaud was returned to the Delta County jail to await trial. Next term of Circuit Court for Delta County begins April 5.

Meshigaud was arrested Monday by State Police of the Gladstone Post for passing forged checks at the Bark River Co-Op Store and the Bark River Bank earlier this month. The checks totaled about $130, police said.

Meshigaud is also wanted as a parole violator by Menominee County authorities.

Senators Seek Outdoor Funds

LANSING (AP)—Sens. Thomas Schweigert and Garland Lane sought to put Michigan on the track of $2.5 million in federal outdoor funds today.

The Petoskey Republican and Flint Democrat were to introduce legislation which would qualify Michigan for programs of federal aid relating to the planning and development of outdoor recreation resources and facilities.

A state must have an approved comprehensive outdoor recreation program to qualify for the matching fund program.

The bill designates the Conservation Department as the agency to deal with the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in seeking the aid funds.

Schweigert, who offered the $2.5 million estimate on available funds, said the program would strengthen outdoor facilities and boost Michigan tourism.

Dewar To Attend Course In Chicago

CHICAGO—Floyd C. Dewar, Jr., 502 S. 7th St., Escanaba, will attend a course in Chicago March 31-April 2 on soil-cement slope protection for earth-fill reservoirs and dams. The course will be conducted by the Portland Cement Association for selected members of its field staff.

The three-day series of lectures will cover the fast-growing use by engineers of soil-cement for protecting earth dams and other hydraulic structures against erosion. Government-approved methods of soil-cement testing, design, and construction will be discussed.

Dewar has been employed by the Portland Cement Association since 1955. He is a paving engineer for the Association's Michigan District. He has a B. S. C. E. degree from Michigan College of Mining and Technology.
